Public Meeting

Parker stated that to increase the number of loans it will be necessary to have the active assistance of the public sector, that is the contractors, builders, realtors, suppliers, businessmen, and others interested in housing. A meeting of those interested in building, remodeling or selling homes has been called in order to explain how the public may be of assistance in stepping up loan processing. This meeting will be held in the Appomattox County High School Vocational Agricultural Building on Aug. 19, 1970 at 6:30 p.m.

While the assistance requested from the public by FHA will directly assist in making more loans at a faster rate, the community will also indirectly benefit in many ways. Some of these are the increased county tax base; decreased trend of families moving away from rural areas; revival of rural businesses and communities, thus helping to stabilize the local economy; and of primary order, a family is put into a decent home, helping to make them happy , contributing citizens.

Mr. Parker says, "We have not scratched the surface of meeting the great rural housing needs of America. As we work together, may we say that this year with Farmers Home Administration will be our finest hour."
